DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-8, 10-13, 16, and 18-21, drawn to a target to emit neutrons as well as particle accelerator and neutron generating tube with said target, classified in class 376, subclass 151+;
- II. Claims 9, 14-15, 17, 22 and 23, drawn to an application of a target to emit neutrons, classified in class 376, subclass 114+.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using, for instance as a fusion energy source.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: Species 1 (with hydrogen fixing material in the form of elements 17: see page 14 and Figures 4A-4B); Species 2 (with extended hydrogen fixing material 18: see page 15 and Figures 5A-5B); Species 3 (with α -particle detector in accelerator: page 20 and Figures 7B-7C); Species 4 (with α -particle detector in neutron generating tube: see page 19 and Figure 7A); Species 6 (with hydrogen fixing metal chosen among titanium, zirconium, erbium, scandium and vanadium; see page 14); Species 7 (with non-hydrogen-fixing material chosen among copper, silver, gold, and combinations thereof: page 14); Species 8 (target inclined in relation to the direction of the particles bombarding it); Species 9 (target substantially parallel to α -particle detector); Species 10 (radiography: pages 8 and 13-14, and Figures 3A-3B); and Species 11 (analysis of substances and/or imaging of substances).

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim appears to be generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
